

Individual reflection Week 7

By Alexander Bratic

- what do I want to learn or understand better?

Continue on the subjects from previous weeks. I want to understand how everything connects and some of the back-end part that other group members have made, like the connections to Google's APIs. I don't feel like I fully understand our code there.

- how can I help someone else, or the entire team, to learn something new?

Don't think I know something someone else doesn't. Not everyone attended the last lecture, so maybe I can help with what is needed for the report.

- what is my contribution towards the team's use of Scrum?

Contributed to the meetings, planning and retrospective. I was scrum master this week, so I organized the meetings and made sure everything was running smoothly with the planning and retrospective meetings.

- what is my contribution towards the team's deliveries?

This week I started with one task that took me two days to finalize. It was to make sure the items are marked when clicked. When looking for a new task on Thursday, the sprint backlog was empty. But I made some minor adjustments to the comparison page, fixing a margin and adding a descriptive header. I also helped Henning with a task, although we didn't manage to solve it before the end of the sprint.
